THE RENAISSANCE
COLLECTION

Art, marking time

A clock becomes a canvas.

Renaissance treats the clock face as a canvas. Each dial is painted by hand, creating an individual composition inspired by the richness of fifteenth and sixteenth century art.

Raised Roman numerals and detailing are finished with genuine 23 1/2 carat gold leaf, bringing light, depth and a lasting sense of occasion.

Hand painted and gilded.

Painting, relief work and gilding come together in one composed surface.

Functional, but this clock's character is unmistakably that of a piece of classical artwork.

Painted by hand. Finished in gold.

The moulded fibreglass dial provides a stable surface for layered hand painting. Raised Roman numerals, markers and the outer rim are then prepared and gilded by hand.

The natural warmth of 23 1/2 carat gold leaf changes with the light and gives the painted composition a precise horological framework.

Fine art. Dependable timekeeping.

Behind the hand finished dial sits a high powered quartz movement, providing dependable battery operation. Time changes are completed simply from the rear.
