THE SPASSKAYA COLLECTION

Architecture making time

A landmark in miniature.

Spasskaya takes its design cue from the clocks of Moscow's Kremlin, whose history reaches back to the early sixteenth century.

The bold black dial, gilded Roman chapters and deep green bezel translate that monumental character into a carefully proportioned interior clock.

Black, Green and Gold.

Three decisive finishes give Spasskaya its identity. The black face provides depth, the green sides of the bezel adds architectural colour, whilst traditional gilding defines every chapter and detail.

Architectural colour. Traditional gold.

The moulded fibreglass body creates the substantial circular form and deep green bezel. Against it, the black dial gives the raised Roman chapters exceptional clarity.

Those chapters and the surrounding details are finished with genuine 23 1/2 carat gold leaf, bringing warmth and depth to the composition.

Historic character. Modern control.

Behind the hand finished dial sits the CL100SS mechanism. Automatic seasonal time changes and power failure correction allow the clock to combine a historic visual language with dependable modern operation.

A statement for the wall.

At 460 mm diameter, Spasskaya has a confident architectural presence while remaining practical for residential, hospitality and carefully selected commercial interiors.

Concealed wall brackets preserve the clean circular profile, allowing the colour, gilding and proportions to take precedence.

A numbered work.

Every numbered Spasskaya Collection clock is accompanied by a certificate of authenticity and a discreet engraved brass plaque.

Together they record the design, finish, serial or edition number, date of completion and the people responsible for the piece.

The clock is protected in a purpose made foam lined wooden crate, ready for delivery to its new setting.
